

About Our Pastor: Timothy L. Fan

When grace abounds to the chief of sinners, Christians learn to boast in the cross of Jesus Christ. Awed by the grace of God and the majesty of the cross, Timothy Fan serves, pastorally, to remind Christ's people that they are God's image bearers, His craftsmanship, created in Christ Jesus for good works, and thus very precious to Him.

Raised in a Southern Baptist church in Denver, Colorado, Timothy studied chemistry in college and completed his seminary training in biblical studies. He currently reads a lot in the field of historical theology. He has served as a teaching and senior pastor in churches in Utah, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and Colorado.

Timothy's lifelong pursuits include savoring family life with his wife and children, homeschooling, training young men in whole-Bible preaching, speaking up for the preborn children of the world, being an advocate for global orphans and the global, persecuted church, and telling the church about the rich spiritual legacy of an all-too-forgotten, ancient Christian pastor named John Chrysostom.

Soli Deo Gloria. Glory to God, alone.

“We be called unto a kingdom that must be won with suffering only, as a sick man winneth health... Who ought not rather to choose and desire to be blessed with Christ in a little tribulation, than to be cursed perpetually with the world for a little pleasure?”

-William Tyndale
